VOL. VII.--NO. 1241.] CHARLOTTE, N. C., THURSDAY, MAY 7, 1863. [$6 PER ANNUM

FIRST EDITION.

BY TELEGRAPH.

TELEGRAPHED FOR THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

FROM OUR VIRGINIA ARMY.

GEN. T. J. JACKSON.

RICHMOND, May 5.

No official dispatches were received last night nor this morning from Gen. Lee's Headquarters' but a private telegram represents our victory complete

The General was removed to a country house about 15 miles distant from the field of battle, and is doing well.

Direct railroad communication with our army is not yet re-established.

The guide of the raiders was captured yesterday at Stunstable Station, on the York River Railroad, where a skirmish occurred between the Yankees and a few Confederate infantry.

FROM VICKSBURG.

VICKSBURG, May 4.

A Yankee craft with two barges in tow, loaded with medical stores and rations for the army below attempted to run by our batteries last night but they were set on fire by our guns and all were burned to the waters edge.

The crew were taken off by our skiffs and brought here.

FROM CHATTANOOGA.

CHATTANOOGA, May 4.

A force of Federal cavalry penetrated Georgia but were met by armed citizens near Rome, where they were held in check.

Forrest is in the rear of these invaders and will probably capture all of them.

All is quiet in front.

It is reported Burnsides is hurrying to Nashville.

A heavy hail storm fell here last night.

A heavy force of Federals crossed the Cumberland at Celina, near the Kentucky line, under cover of artillery, and attacked Col. Hamilton's forces, who, being inferior in numbers and without artillery, fell back to Hills, where he made a stand and after several hours hard fighting repulsed the enemy, killing ten and wounding nineteen.

Our loss is two killed and three wounded.

The Yankees are retreating through Celina which they burned.

Col. Hamilton pursued the enemy to Tompkinsville, Ky., and destroyed the most of that town.

A special to the Rebel, dated the 4th, from Boone, Ga., same date, via Dalton, says:

Gen. Forrest has accomplished the most brilliant feat of the war. He yesterday captured Col. Stuart's entire command, consisting of 1600 infantry.

Forrest had pursued the Yankees from Courtland, Ala., and captured them two miles from the Georgia line and twenty miles from Rome, fighting constantly for five days and nights.

Gen. Forrest's loss is ten killed and forty wounded.

The reception of Gen. Forrest and his command, in Rome, Ga., yesterday, was a triumphant ovation. A salute of twenty guns was fired and the ladies welcomed them with smiles and tears of gratitude.

FROM ATLANTA.

ATLANTA, May 4.

Passengers by the State Road, just arrived, report that the enemy, 1,600 strong with 400 Contrabands have been captured at Capsville.

The Federal loss is 10 killed.

A special dispatch from Col. Lee of Etawah, confirms the above.

FROM, JACKSON MISS.

JACKSON, Miss, May 4.

Gov. Pettus says that no serious disaster has occurred to our forces near Grand Gulf, and wishes the people to have confidence in the result. He has come to the rational and deliberate conclusion that the whole State will be held but that a few towns on the river will probably be taken temporarily, but measures must be taken to meet the enemy at every point assailed and drive him back. He thinks affairs not half so gloomy as three days ago.

Wirt Adams ambushed Grierson at Armite Bridge and let three companies cross, when he opened fire, killing and wounding several.

Col. Prince ordered a regiment to charge the enemy, but the men refused. Prince charged at the head of some men was mortally wounded, and has since died. His body is in our possession.

The companies escaped to Baton Rouge and the remainder were hemmed in and possibly captured.

An extra from the "Mississippian," says that Gen. Bowen fell back from his position at Grand Gulf, being attacked by overwhelming numbers and outflanked.

The 31st Louisiana Regiment was captured fighting desperately. The loss is very heavy on both sides.

Bowen occupies a position east of Grand Gulf, and south of Bayou Pierce, with Port Gibson between him and the enemy.

The enemy is reported at Poutotoc, seven thousand strong, intending to March on Meridian via Columbus.

JACKSON, May 4.

In the "True Delta," of the 28th Aril, the editor expresses the opinion that the United States is on the eve of a war with Great Britain ahd France.

FROM GEN. LEE'S ARMY.

RICHMOND, May 5.

The following was received this evening from Guinea Station, near Fredericksburg, from Gen. Lee:

To His Excellency, President Davis:

GUINEA, May 5.

At the close of the battle at Chancellorsville, on Sunday, the enemy was reported to be advancing from Fredericksburg in our rear.

Gen. McLaws was sent back to arrest his progress and he repulsed the enemy handsomely that afternoon.

Learning that the force of the enemy consisted of two corps, under Gen. Sedgewick, I determined to attack him and marched back yesterday with Gen. Anderson, and uniting with McLaws and Early in the afternoon, succeeded, by the blessing of Heaven, in driving Gen. Sedgewick over the river.

We have re occupied Fredericksburg and no enemy remains south of the Rappahannock or its vicinity.

(Signed,) R. E. LEE,
General Commanding.

FROM JACKSON.

JACKSON, May 5.

The enemy was repulsed yesterday at Ankerson's Ferry, on the Big Black, after four hours severe fighting.

FROM TULLAHOMA.

TULLAHOMA, May 5.

An official dispatch from Gen. Forrest just received says:

After five days hard fighting, without provisions or forage, we captured one third of the force of the enemy (1,600 strong,) near Rome, Ga., with a number of Enfield Rifles, horses and side arms.

FROM THE UNITED STATES.

RICHMOND, May 5.

The New York Herald of the 2d gives an account of the successful advance of Hooker's army across the Rappahannock, and says that five hundred prisoners were taken, and a decided victory over the rebels gained. The troops are in magnificent condition. General Hooker superintended the laying of a portion of the bridges near Kelly's Ford in person.

Lee must now come out and fight a powerful cavalry force. Gen. Stoneman will anticipate him and cut off his railroad communication.

The Herald further says that Hooker is aware of the tremendous responsibility of his position, and that success will be to him an enduring crown of glory, but should he fail he will be lost beyond redemption.

The rebels in Northern Virginia passed within thirteen miles of Waynesburg, Pennsylvania. The cashier of the bank there destroyed sixty thousand dollars of their Bank issue, for fear of its falling into the hands of the rebels

Wall street was excited by a wild speculation in stocks. Gold 151; Cotton dull.

PROSPECTUS

THE CHARLESTON MERCURY

A POLITICAL, COMMERCIAL AND LITERARY NEWSPAPER

PUBLISHED DAILY AND TRI-WEEKLY

THE Mercury gives daily reports of the Stock and Marine Intelligence in Charleston, and of Charleston commerce in the leading ports of the world. The Weekly Review Current is made up with much care, and from the most reliable sources. Its connection with the "Associated Press" insures the latest intelligence by Telegraph and the earliest news by Steamers from Europe. It has an able and accomplished Correspondent in London (a gentleman connected with the editorial staff of the London Times) and regular Correspondents in New York, Wilmington, Key West and Havana. The monthly New York Fashion Letters and weekly letters on Life in Washington are additional attractions to some of its lady readers. Its literary notices, from the pen of a gentleman who occupies perhaps the highest position among the literary men of the South, are discriminating and comprehensive. Attention is paid to all questions of Political Economy, especially those in reference to the Slave Labor and Agricultural interest, and to the financial laws of the day. Great care is taken that nothing shall appear in its columns which should be excluded from the family circle.

The political creed of the Mercury consists in the principles of the Democratic Party, as laid down in the Virginia and Kentucky Resolutions of 1798 and 1799—the Independence of the States, a strict construction of the Federal Constitution by the General Government, the repeal of the Tariff, Free Trade, and an economical Administration of the Government. Its policy is the Union of the Southern States in resistance to Yankee aggression.

TOBACCO UNION.

Come old and young, and hear me tell,
How strong tobacco smokers smell,
Who love to smoke their pipes so well,
That for tobacco they would sell
Their right to social union.

They always scent the atmosphere;
And you may know when they are near,
Though not a word from them you'll hear,
Their breath grows stronger every year,
In this tobacco union.

Oft the fumes and smokes will rise,
Like morning mists towards the skies,
And woe to him who has weak eyes,
Unless he takes his leave and flies
From a tobacco Union.

Often within the Church you'll view,
Some person there to sit and chew,
And spit on carpet, floor and pew,
Until it spreads a foot or two,
And sing of Heavenly union.

Some times the quids, so large within,
The juice runs out and stains the chin,
And then I always have to grin,
And think there is no little sin,
In this tobacco union.

The Ladies they are sweet 'tis true,
But they have learned to use it too;
'Twould almost make a monkey laugh,
To see them spit upon the hearth,
And talk of marriage union.

Sometimes you'll see some five or six.
Out in the woods a hunting sticks;
The sticks are cut the swobs are made,
And a group they now parade,
And now for slobbering union.

And now the snuff box is pulled out,
And with their sticks they dip it out,
And rub their teeth inside and out,
And smear their faces all about,
And talk of snuff communion.

[COMMUNICATED.]

From Western North Carolina.

GOLDEN VALLEY, N. C.,
April —, 1863.

E. H. BRITTON, Esq.:

Dear Sir—It appears that every one who desires the promotion of the happiness, the welfare, and the future prosperity of our bleeding Confederacy, is trying to do something at least to arrest and extinguish that most vile and infamous, outrageous and dangerous emissary which has been raging so furiously during the progress of our struggle for Southern rights and independence. Its velocity is moving on with acceleration, and it has an instinct disposition to take up its abode in the midst of the most tormenting hardships and privations which suffering humanity is subject, and especially in time of war. This great monster has been in existence from the days of Esau to the present time; and during this period it has, from time to time, assumed every shape and name that could be manufactured by its disciples. During the present war it is known to all by the name of Speculators or Extortioners. And notwithstanding the many and mighty efforts made by the loyal portion of the people, to arrest and extinguish it in its progress, it seems that they only tend to aggravate it and render it more desperate to its victims—acting as fuel for the consuming fire.

Mr. Editor, it is strange to say that those very men, whose sole object is to follow all the plans and devices suggested by this demon, are the very men who are ashamed of their names, and cry out in the most penetrating language, that speculation and extortion, if they cannot be arrested, will be the final overthrow of our Southern Confederacy. Mr. Editor, it will be seen that the greatest extortioners and pests in North Carolina, (and I suppose throughout the Confederate States,) were the first to declare themselves Secessionists, declaring that if North Carolina did not secede they would be no longer her citizens—would go to South Carolina, where they would get an opportunity to fight. But, when the glorious news saluted their anxious ears, that North Carolina had seceded, they excused themselves from military service by using their utmost endeavors and influence to get men to volunteer—telling them fine tales, and making such fine promises that their wives and their families should not suffer—would divide the last bushel of corn and the last pound of bacon—would suffer themselves before the soldiers families should want for anything. Even preachers would make great speeches to the soldiers when volunteer companies were being raised—telling them that if they would go they would even sell their horses and their cattle and everything they possessed, to support soldiers wives and children. But those men, when the volunteers had gone, put on another coat, and are now monopolizing the country by buying up all the necessaries of life, compelling the soldiers families to come to them and pay just as high a price as they, in their tyranny and despotism, can extort. Mr. Editor, what would be better than to prepare a Roll of Dishonor, and record their names, that future generations may see their cruel deeds.

W. W. GILBERT.

HOW TO CURE CHILLS.—Strong hoar hound tea, well boiled and drank freely, will cure the most obstinate case of chills on record. It is easily obtained, and the remedy should be known.

CHARLOTTE.

Wednesday Morning, May 6, '63.

Apologetic.

Afflictions in the family of the Editor, together with the absence of a portion of his force, will be accepted by the patrons of the "BULLETIN" as a sufficient excuse and to prevent a murmor in consequence of omissions that may be detected.

The Impressment Bill.

THE amendatory substitute introduced by Mr. Wigfall, and adopted by the Senate, has passed the House of Representatives, after being amended. It is now printed, that in cases where the Agent of the Government shall object to the price set upon the produce impressed by the appraisers of the neighborhood, he shall endorse his reasons on their award, and refer it to his Department; and the Board of Appraisers jointly appointed by the State and the Confederate Goveanment, shall judge what price shall be paid. From this decision there shall be no appeal, and the Department shall settle the claim accordingly We hope that this vexed question is finally settled.

Tennessee.

A correspondent of the Cincinnati Gazette, writing from Corinth, Miss., on the 9th inst., says:

The rebels appear to be establishing a line of communication between Vicksburg and the army opposing Rosecrans. The occupation of Florence indicates a desire to make sure of a crossing on the Tennessee, while their forces are scattered along in nearly the line of march from one place to the other, as if to be prepared for any movement which might be called for—Gen. Ruggles commands at Columbus, Mississippi. Northward, a force occupies Tupelo, on the Mobile and Ohio Railroad and sends pickets as far North as Baldwin. Chalmers and Wood have commands scattered between Columbus and the main army in Tennessee. Whether all this indicates a movement from Vicksburg to Tennessee, or the reverse it is not known; but at any rate it is evidently a precautionary disposition of forces.

Designs of the Enemy at Vicksburg.

The correspondent of the Mobile Register & Advertiser writes as follows under date of the 22d ult.:

From the prisoners who were captured during the affair on last Thursday night, and particularly from the women who escaped from the transport Henry Clay, I learn that it is the intention to run a number of gunboats past our batteries, and to throw a large force across the peninsula to a point below. When all the plans are completed, the lower fleet between this point and Port Hudson are to come up and attack the batteries below, to occupy our troops in that quarter, and to make a desperate effort to obtain a toothold on land; and that for this purpose Gen. Osterhause is now threatening Warrenton from the oppposite side of the river.

While the fleet below is engaging our lower batteries, the fleet from above will come down and attack the upper batteries, and while this is going on, threatening the place on both sides, the cotton-lined transports will come down and land troops immediately in front of the city. They will then make a rush upon the streets, secure our batteries, turn the guns on the rebels, and storm the city, which being accomplished, they will take possession of the town, and hold it against any force Jeff Davis can send to take it away from them. This plan sounds very formidable, and may possibly be attempted, so far as the attack from the different points is concerned, and I should not be surprised if the landing of the troops was attempted.

The Exemption Act.

The following is a copy of the act amendatory of the "Exemption Act" of last session, passed by Congress on last Thursday:

AN ACT

To repeal certain clauses of an act entitled "an act to exempt certain persons from military service, etc., approved 11th October, 1862:

1. The Congress of the Confederate States of America do enact, That so much of the act approved October 11th, 1862, as exempts from military service "one person, either as agent, owner, or overseer, on each plantation on which one white person is required to be kept by the laws or ordinances of any State, and on which there is no white male adult not liable to military service, and in States having no such law, one person, as agent, owner, or overseer, on each plantation of twenty negroes, and on which there is no white male adult not liable to military service,', and also the following clause of said act, to wit: "and furthermore, for additional police for every twenty negroes, on two, or more plantations, within five miles of each other, and each having less than twenty negroes, and on which there is no white male adult not liable to military duty, one person being the oldest of the owners or overseers on such plantations," be and are hereby repealed.

2. For the police and management of slaves there shall be exempted one person on each farm or plantation, the sole property of a minor, a person of unsound mind, a feme sole, or a person absent from home in the military or naval service of the Confederate States, on which there are twenty or more slaves, provided, the person so exempted was employed and acting as an overseer previous to the 16th of April, 1863, and there is no white adult on said farm or plantation who is not liable to military duty, which fact shall be verified by the affidavits of said person and two respectable citizens, and shall be filed with the officer; and provided, the owner of such farm or plantation, his agent or legal representative, shall make affidavit and deliver the same to the enrolling officer that after diligent effort no overseer can be procured for such farm or plantation not liable to military duty; provided further, that this clause shall not extend to any farm or plantation on which the negroes have been placed by divisions from any other farm or plantation, since the 11th of October, 1862; provided further, that for every person exempted as aforesaid, and during the period of such exemption, there shall be paid annually into the public treasury by the owners of such slaves, the sum of five hundred dollars.

3. Such other persons shall be exempted as the President shall be satisfied ought to be exempted, in districts of country deprived of white or slave labor indispensable to the production of grain or provisions, necessary for the support of the population remaining at home, and also, on account of justice, equity, and necessity.

4. In addition to the State officers exempted by the act of October, 11th, 1862, there shall, also, be exempted all State officers whom the Governor of any State may claim to have exempted for the due administration of the Government and laws thereof; but this exemption shall not continue in any State after the adjournment of the next regular session of its Legislature unless such Legislature shall by law exempt them from military duty in the Provisional Army of the Confederate States.

Tax in Kind.

The Legislature of Georgia, at its last session, says the Atlanta Confederacy, passed the following resolution endorsing the proposed taxation in kind:

Resolved by the General Assembly, That they approve of the principle of taxation as recommended by Hon. R. M. T. Hunter, Chairman of the Committee of Finance in the Senate of the Confederate States. That while we recognize it as a system of extraordinary taxation, we are equally sensible of the fact that the war we are now engaged in is of the greatest magnitude. A tax upon products in kind and upon income and certain species of property, is the convenient mode of taxation, and will be less felt than a direct tax in-valne. It will lessen the volume of circulation. It will furnish a just scale of prices, because the value fixed upon products which are collected as taxes affords a fair price to the producer. The products in kind will furnish the largest proportion of supplies for the army. It will check speculators in provisions, and prevent them from forcing the Government to pay four fold prices for what it purchases. It will restore confidence and credit, and enable the Government to fund its debt, and retire the circulation until its volume is reduced to an amount only commensurate with the commercial and business wants of the country. We invoke the patriotism of the people to a faithful adherence to this system of taxation when adopted. We must bear the burdens, if we intend to be free.

The Richmond Whig remarks on the foregoing:

Perhaps all the features of the bill are not unexceptionable. No work of human hands is perfect. But already there has been a sensible fall in prices, and a check put to inordinate speculation. We join our cotemporary in invoking the patriatism of the people. We believe the people will do their part.

THE CROPS.—Our exchanges from all sections, speak favorably of the prospects of a large wheat crop. From every quarter we have the most encouraging reports. The breadth of land put in is much greater than was ever before known, and all things now promise an abundant yield.

Most of our planters, we are gratified to learn, are exerting themselves with the utmost energy to assist the Government in the all important work of provisioning the army, and raising an abundance for their families at home. From nearly every direction their comes to us the most cheering assurances of their determination to do their whole duty in this connection. The appeal of the President has roused patriots to a full sense of their obligations and responsibilities. Every acre that can be planted in corn, potatoes, beans, peas, and other articles of food, should be cultivated with an eye to the greatest possible production.

With so vast a territory as that comprised in the Confederacy, adapted to the growth of every plant that yields food for man—with a soil exceeded by none other in fertility and a climate possessing every attraction—with favorable seasons through the successive stages of growth, the crops this year and during the war, if all do their duty, must yield a superabundance of subsistence, so that there will always be a heavy reserve to meet contingencies. The great thing is to have overflowing barns and meat houses. If we shall be so fortunate our path will be thereby made smooth in future. The worst difficulties will have been overcome and a surplus of food will have been obtained which will vastly facilitate future operations. We can then go on accumulating annually as ong as the war lasts, and our army will be able to strike its blows at all events wit unimpaired vigor and full effect. So that when peace comes it will find us in the midst of plenty and prepared to enter at once, without any embarrassment or impediment, upon that proud career of nationality which will be then opened before us.—Augusta Chronicle & Sentinel.

THE subscriber, desirous of obtaining a lot of Uncle Jeff's currency, has concluded to sell his Establishment at Stice's Shoals, on First Broad River in Cleaveland county, N. C. At the Shoals he has now running and in complete order one Forgeior making iron—tub blast; a Wheat and Corn Mill. The flour made at this mill is equal to any in the State; also, one set of Mill Stones for grinding ears of corn into meal, a Saw Mill, (Motet less wheels:) a Machine and Turning Lathe Shop, a Blacksmith Shop with two fire places, an excellent Tan Yard, with the right of Wattle's improvements on tanning, now in use; and what is better than all, one of the best Shoals on the river in Western North Carolina, together with about 1000 acres of Land, 600 acres of wood land of the best of oak and pine timber, balance cleared, and excellent farming Land; an excellent orchard; also, a Shoe Shop and an Oil Mill for making flax and cotton seed oil; a good Dwelling House, Store House and all other out buildings necessary.

This property will not, in all probability, be offered for sale again for a generation to come.—The river affords water enough to run almost any quantity of Machinery, and has a fall of ten feet in 50 yards over a smooth rock, a very small dam is needed.

My address is as above.
